FIG. 4.1. The interaction rank between two adjacent blocks can be calculated by recursively subdividing the source block (white) into well-separated subblocks with respect to the target (gray), each of which has constant rank.