Fig. 2.1. An example of a tree structure imposed on the index vector $(1, 2, \ldots, N)$. At each level of the hierarchy, a contiguous block of indices is divided into a set of children, each of which corresponds to a contiguous subset of indices.